

Prohibited, Sanctioned and High Risk countries list

Prudential International is fully committed to upholding sanctions to help prevent organised financial crime and terrorism. Under our sanction's policy, we will not accept business from customers who are resident in the countries listed below and overleaf that are noted as either prohibited or sanctioned countries.

In addition, as a result of these restrictions:

- Correspondence addresses in any of the following countries will not be accepted.
- A trustee, beneficiary or other beneficial owner of the customer must not be resident in any of the countries noted as either a prohibited or sanctioned country.
  Prudential International also reserves the right to refuse any business where a trustee, beneficiary or other beneficial owner of the customer is resident in a high risk country.
- Advisers must not solicit, negotiate or transact business in any of the countries listed below and overleaf.

Due to regulatory, tax and other restrictions, Prudential International doesn't currently accept any business where a customer, trustee, beneficiary or other beneficial owner of the customer is resident in any of the following countries:

Prohibited Countries – Regulatory Reasons
Australia	South Africa
Bahrain	Switzerland
Belgium	Tanzania
