Fund manager commentary

31 March 2022

Global inflationary fears and Russia’s invasion of Ukraine dominated global financial markets. Rising inflation expectations weighed heavily on both bonds and shares, as investors fretted over the impact of higher prices and anticipated a much faster pace of interest rate rises from the major central banks. The conflict in Ukraine acted as another catalyst for commodity price rises. The added geopolitical uncertainty weighed heavily on many emerging markets, particularly those closest to the conflict zone. However, some markets further afield, such as in Latin America, and notable oil-producing nations performed well.

Assets traditionally seen as safer bets, such as the US dollar and gold also benefited. The yields on government bonds in the UK, US and Europe rose sharply (prompting notable losses for many investors).

UK commercial property enjoyed a solid start. Despite the high level of COVID-19 cases, rising inflation and increasing interest rates, investors appear optimistic. We believe the reasons for the optimism are improving economic and employment growth – both key drivers of the demand for space – buoyant household savings, which are supportive of a retail and leisure recovery, and employees returning to the office. Trends of the past few months remain in play, with ongoing strong demand for industrials. Retail has seen a marked recovery. Demand for office space is also steadily gaining traction.

The M&G Treasury & Investment Office (T&IO) outlook is cautiously optimistic although much uncertainty remains.

PruFund Growth (Euro) Fund

PruFund Protected Growth (Euro) Fund

The PruFund Growth (Euro) performance figures shown below are intended only to demonstrate performance history of the fund over the period shown. The PruFund funds performance figures are based on a representative fund charge of 0.65% p.a. and further costs. The actual fund charge can vary by product. They take no account of product or advice charges. The application of these charges and further costs will impact the overall performance. Please also note that our charges and further costs may vary in the future and may be higher than they are now.

Funds' Performance is based upon the movement of the daily price and is shown as the total return in the fund's currency of denomination with gross income invested. Due to changes in exchange rates the value of your investment, as well as the money you take from it, can go down as well as up, so you might get back less than you put in.
